At a crowded meeting in the basement of St. Paul's Anglican Church in Minden Monday night (April 6), area service veterans made application to open their own branch of the Royal Canadian Legion.

Although 15 charter applicants are required for a new branch, by the end of the Monday night meeting, 38 had applied in person and another 11 had sent in completed forms.

Attendance was set at 104. "We're not here to try to start a Legion, but to start a Legion," said Legion District Commander Paul Hycha at the meeting.

Hycha attended the meeting to oversee the charter application.

He read a letter from Haliburton Village Legion Branch 129 president Joan Irish, congratulating the Minden charter applicants and offering her assistance.

One of the conditions of opening a new branch, Hycha explained, is support from other local branches.

He said it would take at least two months for the Provincial Legion office to review the Minden application. There could be a Legion branch in the village as early as the end of May, he said.

"Charter members" those who are members when the branch receives its charter - "are highly respected," Hycha said.

An election was held by charter members applicants for branch officers and executive.

Tony Samarillo was chosen as president.

Other officers include: Mike Maher, first vice president; Doug Seath, second vice-president; Vivienne Seath, secretary; Ray Cox, treasurer.

Members of the executive chosen at the meeting were: Aulis Orpana, Dave MacAdam, Arnold Schroter, Frank Sargent, Frank Dunsford, Don Davidson and Muriel Bird.

At that point did it come down to a vote. Everyone came to his position by acclamation.

Before the choosing of officers and executive,

Spring has hardly begun but already the 1987 building season is shaping up as a record-breaker in Minden.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council approved in principle, at their meeting last Thursday, plans for a two storey apartment and retail complex for the Bobcaygeon Road and a 40 unit motel to be built on Highway 35 opposite the OPP station.

Peter Mathwick told council he had sold his house in Oshawa to be able to buy property beside the Schnitzel House in Minden and build a motel.

"I'm an independent," Mathwick said. "I intend to run the motel and to live here."

He explained that he wanted to build the complex in stages. First, he said, he would build a house for himself and then the first 20 motel units. And once he had saved up some capital again, he would set to work on the second 20 units, which would be added as a second floor.

"I don't like the idea of being a quarter-million dollars in debt," he explained.

Mathwick said that as soon as council approved his plan, he would apply to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to build an entrance on to Highway 35 and begin designing his motel.

The other project approved by council was Harry Southern's apartment and store complex. To be built on a lot adjacent to Pat Murphy's log home business on the east side of the Bobcaygeon Road, it is to include three stores and six apartments in its two storeys.

Southern said he wants to start construction in the fall

Lutterworth clerk resigns

Lutterworth clerk-treasurer Wayne Hughes has resigned.

His resignation was presented at the March 31 meeting of the township council and will become effective April 30.

The clerk of the township for the past ten years, Hughes said he felt it was time for a change and said his departure was mutually agreed between himself and the council. Hughes said he intends to remain in the area.

Lutterworth Reeve Bill Valentine said the township was losing "...the best clerk in the county. I'm sad to see him go, he is irreplaceable."

At the same time that the clerk announced his resignation, the township's tax collector and bookkeeper Jean Ballard also announced her retirement, effective the end of this month. She has also been with the municipality for ten years.

Valentine said both employees were valuable assets to the township and would be missed at the office.

The council has appointed deputy-clerk Jeanne Simpson to the clerk-treasurer post. She has been with the township for the past eight years. The positions of deputy-clerk and tax collector are being advertised in this week's edition of The Times.

Student artists win scholarships

Scholarships for students from county schools were distributed April 3 at the two art galleries. The scholarships are for art courses held at the Haliburton School of Fine Arts this summer. Various businesses and organizations, throughout the county donated the cost of the scholarships, $35 each.

The presentations were made at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden and at the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton. The winning entries were selected by two juries from various pieces of art submitted by teachers at all grade levels.

In Minden, scholarships were presented to the following students from Archie Stouffer Elementary School: Dustin Davis, grade 8, Robert Ackerblade and Michelle Maybee grade 7, Jocelyn Mackenzie grade 5, Will Wallace grade 4, Jessica Wallace, Jami Swinson, Tommy Bagshaw and Robert Davis grade 3, Rachel Mary Brown grade 2, Andrea Hughes grade 1, and Nicholas Kulas kindergarten.

Students from Minden receiving honourable mentions for their work included: Jocelyn Mackenzie grade 5, Angella Howard and Nathan Gibbons grade 4, Geoffrey Oitment, Stacey Sisson and Erin McKnight grade 3, Megan Sisson, Danielle Berube, Phillip Daniels and Andrea Hughes, all of grade one.

In Haliburton, scholarships were awarded to the following students:

- from Victoria Street school, Jamie Ogle and Bobby Sisson of grade 2 and Kristen Sisson of kindergarten. Honourable mentions to Stephanie Sales and Sarah McMahon of grade 2, Trina Howe of grade one and Ben Barry of kindergarten.

- from J.D. Hodgson Elementary School, Tricia Bain and Melissa Bain grade 7, David Dummit grade 6, Floyd McCormick and Margaret Teljeur grade 4, and Josh Brown grade 3. Honourable mentions to Lynne Bussey grade 7, Tammy Lee grade 6, Sabrina Pringle, Joel Edwards, Nancy Douglas, Jenny-Nichole Philips and Jody Kirchner all of grade 3.

- from Haliburton

Highlands Secondard School, Trevor Kennedy grade 11 and Jason Smith grade 10. Honourable mentions to Beth Burton grade 11, Melissa Jones and Alison Sisson grade 10.

- from Cardiff Elementary School, Danielle Greaves grade 4, David Shaw grade 3 and Lori Card special education, intermediate. Honourable mentions to Darrell Nixon, Trevor Welsh, Jennifer Potts and Norman Dashwood, all of grade 3 and David Evans special education, primary.

- from Dorset Elementary School, Caroline Bacher grade 2. Honourable mention to Sarah Nash, grade 3.

- from Gooderham Elementary School, Cara Stamp grade 4. Honourable mentions to Stuart Taylor and Cara Stamp grade 4 and Michelle Dovel grade 3.

- from Wilberforce Elementary School, Luke Barker, Jeremy Townsend and Ricky Huffman grade 2 and Jason Nottage kindergarten. Honourable mentions to Tracy Nottage, Meghann Agnew and Jason MacDuff all grade 2.

Acid rain report

The following report on recent precipitation was gathered at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing station in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada. Six events were reported during the latest period:

- On March 29, 11 mm of rain, pH 4.1, from West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania and southern Ontario.

- On March 30-31, 37 cm of mixed snow and rain, pH of 4.6, from West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and southern Ontario.

- on March 31, a trace of precipitation, pH of 4.6, from northern Ontario and central Ontario.

- on April 1, 6 cm of snow, pH 4.2, from Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and southern Ontario.

- on April 2, 3 cm of snow, pH of 4.1 from Kentucky, Ohio and southern Ontario.

- on April 4, 4 mm of rain, pH of 4.9, from Atlantic Ocean, New England and eastern Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Over 100 at organizational meeting

Vivienne Seath asked Hycha if the decision could be postponed until members knew each other better.

Hycha replied that Legion rules require officers and executive to be chosen before the branch application is reviewed.

Hycha did permit the charter applicants to call their branch Royal Canadian Legion until they had time to decide on another more appropriate name.

He stressed that "you can't really call yourself a Legion yet - you're still applying for membership to the organization."

It was announced at the end of the night that $808.50 had been taken in application fees.

Hycha said in closing that the branch would be a good thing for Minden, but that it would also be "a lot of work and a lot of disappointment for members."

"We've got to help each other - that's what the Legion is all about," he said.

The charter members of the Minden legion are:

Walter Ackerblade, Nelson Austen, Fred Ballard, Horace Baker,

The evening of April 6 was an occasion to celebrate for the charter members of the new Minden branch of the Royal Canadian Legion. While a formal charter has not been issued, the organizations has elected an executive and is preparing to become an active branch in the Canadian Legion movement. The organization's president, Tony Samarillo, centre, is surrounded by members of his executive and some of the charter members following the meeting last Monday. The group expects to receive its formal charter during the summer.

Firehall addition proposed

Stanhope Fire Department is in need of more space and at last Wednesday's Stanhope Council meeting, Fire Chief Bob Nangle unveiled tentative plans for an addition to the present fire hall which would increase its size by about a third.

However, council will not decide on whether to go through with the proposed work until it meets to discuss the municipal budget later this spring.

The shell of the 63 by 35 foot addition would cost an estimated $35,000.

The main purpose of the extra space, said Nangle, is to house the mini-pumper fire truck the township is buying, scheduled for delivery this June.

He said the fire department also badly needs space for training new men.

"I think we should consider this seriously, because it's going to cost a lot more two or three years down the road," said councillor Ann Barker.

Nangle said Stanhope isn't eligible for a grant for the addition.

At the upcoming budget meetings, council will also have to contend with the extra expenses of the new Haliburton hospital addition and with the new county welfare service.

Clean-up time

The warm temperatures of spring have chased the snow away, leaving the ground barren and ready for a fresh beginning. In its wake, the disappearing season has left the usual remnants of winter, the piles of gravel and sand, pockets of garbage and litter long hidden by the snow.

As the first green shoots show their eager heads, it's a great time to clear away the debris left behind. Rakes, shovels, garbage bags, and most of all eager hands are needed to prepare for the new season.

Lend a hand---clean the land.

Linguaphobia, bah humbug

- by Arthur Black -

Do you have trouble with languages -- other than the one we're using right now. I mean? Lingophobia seems to be the Anxiety of Choice these days. I hear people muttering about the French on the back of the cereal box. I run across other folks gnashing their dentures over the unreadability of 'Japanified' assembly instructions that come with their "so-easy-a-child-could-put-it-together" barbecues.

Well, pas de probleme, ami. I'm here to convince you that you are a linguistic whiz. Bilingual? It is to laugh. You're multilingual - polylingual even. Before you leave this page I'll have you nattering in Japanese, Mandarin, Ojibway, Malaysian, Iroquoian, German and Spanish. Best of all, I won't be teaching you -- you already know this stuff.

Let's start by examining the status quo. I don't want to feed your ego but the fact is you're no ignoramus. Without going into the pros and cons, conducting a referendum or issuing an ultimatum, it's safe to say that you have already mastered a substantial chunk of a foreign language you may never have studied in school.

You understood that last paragraph didn't you? It contained eight unadulterated Latin words -- which is but a fraction of the Latin words you use every day. Each time you enter an 'arena' or a 'stadium', try to shoot under 'par' on the golf course, read 'propaganda' about a 'moratorium' or shake your head about the number of 'major' and 'minor' penalties called in a match that featured one team 'versus' another...you might as well be having a chat with Cicero.

You speak French too -- and not just the obvious imports like chaise longue, filet mignon and bouquet but also words like envelope, hotel and prairie.

You speak Greek of course, (everything from asbestos to zoology) and Dutch (cookies, coleslaw, waffles). You know German (sauerkraut, noodles, pretzels, hamburgers). You have a little Swedish (smorgasbord) a good deal of Indian patter (papoose, toboggan, moccasin, wigwam, raccoon) -- by you even have a smattering of Arabic (zero, algebra, assassin).

Why it's enough to make a guy run amok (Malaysian) or even go berserk (Old Norse.)

Anyway, I think you get my point -- if you're bad at language, then Wayne Gretzky wears tube skates. You're a regular walking Tower of Babel, chum. But here's a couple of tips that will make your command of languages even more impressive.

Some foreign linguistic trivia first: Know what the Hawaiians call an itty-bitsy reef-dwelling fish about as long as your thumb?

They call him (or her) 'humohumokuno-kaupuaa'.

Know what those same Hawaiians call another fish -- a boxcar-sized denizen of the deep that's big enough to swallow your surfboard sideways?

They call him 'O'.

Foreign linguistic trivia, subsection: traffic signs. Did I mention that your command of Jamaican patois would leave Harry Belafonte gaping in amazement? Of course it would. What would you realize if you were driving into Kingston and saw a road sign warning: "No uovatek naar pass" -- that it was against the law to overtake or pass naturally. Say, you've really got a gift for this sort of thing, haven't you?

But enough bantering. I promised you some helpful language tips and it's time to deliver. Here's one: In Spanish there is an endlessly useful phrase that wins friends, melts hearts and may even get the other hombre to buy the next round of Fundador. The phrase means "That's right!" or "You've got it!" People -- Spanish or otherwise -- love to be told that they're brilliant. In Spanish the phrase is: "Eso si que es!" But forget that.

Editor:

It has recently come to our attention that the Toronto Humane Society has initiated a campaign to solicit new members outside of the Toronto area. This campaign is targeted at Ontario residents, some of whom have never been active with Humane Societies anywhere in the province.

Before surrendering to their appeal for money, local residents should be aware of the facts. The Toronto Humane Society has recently taken a new direction...that of the Animal Rights Movement.

The radical movement began with the recent election of Vicki Miller as president of the society. Ms. Miller, also founder and national co-ordinator of the activist group ARK II, has been the cause of much controversy within the Humane Society Federation of the province.

Her unorthodox beliefs and tactics have sprouted the recent dramatic decline in public support for the organization. This, I would imagine, is what has precipitated her plea for support from unsuspecting residents outside of the Toronto area. However, it is presumptuous of Ms. Miller to expect our support for her society when our local organizations are equally in need of such funding.

There is a vast difference between animal rights and animal welfare. The Ontario Trappers Association supports and encourages Humane Societies that operate on an animal welfare basis and solidly believes that they need our support.

Leadership, as Ms. Miller has displayed, is not the standard for the respectable Humane Societies of our province. I urge you - donate rather to your Local Humane Societies. Well established, reputable local organizations deserve your support and will do much more to promote animal welfare on your behalf.

Credit card charges

by Bill Kulas

We have all heard the expressions, "We live in a credit card society," or "Why carry cash when you can carry plastic."

In 1980 10.7 million credit cards were in use in Canada. In 1986, we Canadians held 14.5 million credit cards. Those 14.5 million credit cards in circulation last year accounted for sales of $23 billion. Of that amount, almost 6 billion dollars ended up as unpaid balances subject to the high interest charges.

While the prime interest rate in our country has dropped steadily since our recession years of 1981-82, credit card rates have declined marginally.

For example, here are some of the facts that I was able to obtain from the Canadian Bankers' Association. In 1982 the prime interest rate was at 16.5%, Visa's rate was 24% and MasterCard was 24.6%. In June of 1983 the prime rate was 11%, Visa was 18.6% and MasterCard was 21%. In July of 1986 the prime was 9.75%, Visa was still at 18.6% and MasterCard was still at 21%.

That widening spread between prime and the credit card rates prompted the House of Commons finance committee to launch an inquiry last May calling for lower credit card rates.

The finance committee estimated that the banks earned more than one billion dollars a year in interest payments on credit cards.

Recently, Thomas Hockin, Minister of State for Finance, threatened banks and large Canadian Department stores, with legislation to lower credit card rates unless charges on unpaid balances are chopped voluntarily.

According to Hockin, the rates should not exceed the Canadian banks' prime rate, the benchmark for consumer and business loans, by more than 4 or 5 percentage points. Quite a difference from those rates charged over the past few years, don't you think?

With interest rates for business loans, car loans and mortgages having been chopped in half over the past few years, my question is, "Why the delay in reducing credit card rates?" Apparently, the scare tactic used by Ottawa has worked, the Toronto Dominion Bank was the first to lower its Visa card rate to 15.9%. The Commerce and Royal Bank have made similar cuts over the past few days. The Bank of Montreal has announced that it will lower its rate to 18.3% effective some time in July of this year.

Should the government have threatened the banks into reducing their rates (should, as the top bankers are stubbornly arguing, allow the rates to come down only as a result of market forces. What do you think? Please send us your comments c/o The Editor.

Mortgage changes announced

- by Bill Scott, MP -

On March 24, 1987, the Minister responsible for the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, (CMHC), Stewart McInnes, unveiled a number of changes designed to strengthen the federal government's Mortgage Insurance Fund and to reaffirm the principle of equal access to mortgage funding at the lowest possible cost for consumers in all parts of Canada.

Some underwriting premiums and fees will be reduced and second mortgage insurance will be offered to fund renovation work or additional borrowing requirements.

Pools of existing low-risk mortgages will be insured under the National Housing Act (NHA) in order to increase the supply of money for mortgages.

Consumers will benefit from competition between the public and private sectors in the mortgage insurance business. Private insurers must meet their financial goals, and the CMHC must ensure equal access to financing for all Canadians.

The changes already announced, and those that will be introduced following consultation with the provinces and the industry, demonstrate the government's commitment to a fiscally-responsible public mortgage loan insurance program, to healthy competition within the industry and to the needs of consumers, lender and builders.

These new measures which will take effect on May 1 at the earliest, are proof of our government's constant improvement of the NHA so that it continues to serve Canadians well, especially since, for some Canadians, it represents the only means of becoming a homeowner.

Japanese? A snap. Want to say "You're welcome"? It's 'doo itashimashite'. You'll get by if you say "Don't touch my moustache" -- real fast. Similarly you should remember that when you say "hi" in Japanese you are really saying "yes" (hai); when you want to say "Good morning" just think of the state of Ohio (ohayo) -- and remember too that the word for mother in Japanese is ha-ha.

That shouldn't be hard to remember -- just think of your mother-in-law.

Popularity of parks grow

- by John Eakins, MPP -

With last week's unexpected snow storm, we may not be thinking about the summer months, and camping in our provincial parks.

However, I am pleased to see my friend and colleague Vince Kerrio, Minister of Natural Resources continuing to improve our popular provincial parks.

The parks I am happy to say, will create more than 6,000 weeks of work -- that's equal to 750 people getting two months of work each. When the renovations are finished, visitors will find a noticeable improvement in the services our parks have to offer.

In Victoria-Haliburton, both Emily Provincial Park and Balsam Lake Provincial Park will be improved. Balsam Lake will receive over $31,000 for upgrading and improving the comfort stations and park offices while Emily Park will be receiving new picnic tables.

These local renovations will enhance the vacation time of visitors to our area. However, many residents in Haliburton and Victoria Counties will once again be enjoying our parks across the province.

For your information, other major renovations to parks include: shoreline erosion protection and cleanup at Wasaga Beach and Craigleith Provincial Parks on Georgian Bay; solar water heating equipment for comfort stations in the Chutes, Pancake Bay, Halfway Lake, Restoule, Samuel de Champlain, Marten River, White Lake, and Obatanga Provincial Parks; design and installation of wall displays in Quetico Provincial Park's Visitor Services Building; and new or upgraded comfort stations in Sibbald Point, Rock Point, Presqu'ile and Bon Echo Parks.

Other Ministry of Natural Resources programs receiving supplementary dollars are surveys and mapping, conservation authorities, aviation and fire management and forest resources.

In other news, my colleague and recent visitor to our riding, the Honourable Lily Munro, Minister of Citizenship and Culture, has approved a grant to the John Howard Society of Victoria-Haliburton. As Minister of Citizenship and Culture Dr. Munro has approved a grant of $35,000 to assist the Society in operating its community literacy program.

boring, without surprises or variety in vegetation or terrain. And yet you probably enjoy spending time in more natural settings, walking in woods and meadows.

Spring, like the start of a new year, is a good time to make resolutions. Why not change your personal landscape a little this year and, in the process, maybe your style of gardening. After all, less use of the power mower and a little more hand weeding might be good for your figure; and getting rid of lawn sprays will benefit all living things, including you.

The earth with pullulate with earthworms, the garden will swarm with bees, butterflies and ladybugs. This kind of garden won't be to everyone's taste. For some, neatness is compulsive; everything must be symmetrical. Nature is seldom tidy; things sprawl and climb.

However, if you would rather listen to the evening song of the robin or the house wren instead of the roar of the power mower, maybe you're ready to make a change and to be, like Nature, a little more relaxed. Take a good hard look at your lot. Maybe there is a strip along a back fence or on a slope where you could seed some wildflowers and forget about mowing. One seed company in Ontario is putting out native seed mixtures this spring. Try a packet and see what happens. It can't look any worse than it does now. Maybe you'll be pleasantly surprised. You may get some interesting self-seeders in the unmowed portion. Butterflies should certainly be one splendid side-effect of introducing native wildflowers; the Swallow Tail likes umbelliferous plants like Queen Anne's Lace and Dill and the Monarch will seek out the wild Asters, which are genetic parents of the Michaelmas daisies.

One very difficult thing to do in creating a more natural space is to change ones mindset about what constitutes a weed. The much maligned Dandelion provides on unsprayed land, nutritious greens and gone to seed, food for Goldfinches and other finches and many kinds of sparrows. Besides it is really quite attractive and an early and vigorous bloomer. How often have you seen the road verges which had been brilliant with Ox-eyed daisies, Fireweed and Buttercups, mowed or sprayed relentlessly because they're all weeds to the roads department. What mania drives us to turn open space into deserts? How much pleasure that fence corner, so hard to get at with the mower, would give in September if it glowed with Asters and Goldenrod.

Another way in which you might make your yard a little more like a natural woodlot is to replace dead or delicate ornamental shrubs or small trees with sturdy and attractive native species. Most nurseries now carry a selection of these. Many species like Nannyberry, Red Osier Dogwood and Sumach have ornamental fruit which also attracts birds. In what wet corner a clump of White Cedar would provide colour in the winter, fragrance in the heat and cover and food for birds. Or you may have an unused back corner or a high fence where you could allow the native Wild Grape to twine and curl itself into a dense tangle likely to attract a nesting Catbird in summer or provide shelter for a Sawwhet owl in February.

Think about birds -- Cardinals, Thrushes, Yellow Warblers; consider butterflies - Mourning Cloak, Red Admiral, Great Spangled Fritillary or insects like the Praying Mantis and the Lacewing. Now look at your yard. What wildlife have you seen there in the past? Nature only needs a little encouragement. A little attention to what you plant, a little less tidying and no chemical herbicides or pesticides and who knows what kind of little eden you could create.

The F.O.N. has produced a very useful pamphlet call Backyard Birdwatching. This includes suggestions for making you yard more attractive to wildlife. If you would like this free pamphlet please send a stamped self-addressed envelope to the Federation of Ontario Naturalists, 355 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, Ontario M3B 2W8 - Attention Marion Strebig.

Resorts benefit from assistance

Seven tourism operators in Victoria-Haliburton will share in over $30,000 in financial assistance from the provincial government the Minister of Tourism and Recreation announced this week.

John Eakins, the MPP for Victoria-Haliburton says the Destinations East program has been even more successful than anticipated especially in Haliburton and Victoria Counties. "Resort owners in the two Counties have demonstrated a great deal of initiative in using the program to improve the tourism industry in our area."

Destinations East is a seven point program which offers grants to the tourism industry in eastern Ontario and Eakins says he has been encouraged by the enthusiasm for the program throughout the designated area.

"A number of grants have already been approved in Victoria-Haliburton," and Eakins says, "I am pleased to approve another seven projects."

The projects receiving non-repayable contributions to undertake marketing programs include:

- Hart Lodge near Minden will receive a grant of $8,509.

- Maple Sands Resort near Haliburton will receive a grant of $4,950.

- the Wilberforce and District Businessmen's Association will receive a non-repayable contribution of $2,294 to assist the association in promoting the Loop '87 Winter Carnival.

- Lochaven Inn near Haliburton will receive a grant of $3,522.

- Willow Beach Cottages near Haliburton will receive a non-repayable contribution of $1,638.

- Spectra Aviation of Haliburton will receive a grant of $4,199.

- Haliburton Lodge Estate known as the Domain of Killien will receive a grant of $5,125.

Have you filed a tax return for 1986?

To avoid penalty your return must be post marked no later than midnight April 30, 1987.

If you have not filed a return in the past few years because of insufficient income, perhaps this year it could be to your advantage, as the Federal government is giving a sales tax rebate to anyone with a combined income from all sources of less than $15,000.00. You could be eligible to receive this benefit.

The Haliburton County Information Centre has eager volunteers waiting to help you complete your return, just call for an appointment, there is no charge.

The check list below will help you assemble the documents you will need to complete your return.

1. T5 Bank Interest.
2. T4 Employment earnings.
3. TFAI Family allowance.
4. T4A Old Age security.
5. T4A(P) Canada Pension.
6. T4U Unemployment benefits.
7. Other pensions or superannuation statements.
8. Receipts for medical expenses and charitable donations.

If you wish help with your tax return, completing forms or have a question that need answering, contact the Haliburton County Information Centre in the Municipal Building, Milne Street, Minden, open every Tuesday 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. or call 286-4100. Our Haliburton office situated in the Drag River Municipal Building Maple Ave., is open 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. daily or call 457-2733.

Poor year for maple syrup production

Though taps on maple trees in Haliburton County have not stopped dripping - in fact, "We could have a good few days yet," says one producer - 1987 is not shaping up as a good season.

For a good sap run, you need lots of warm days and cold nights. So far this spring there hasn't been much frost on the ground in the mornings.

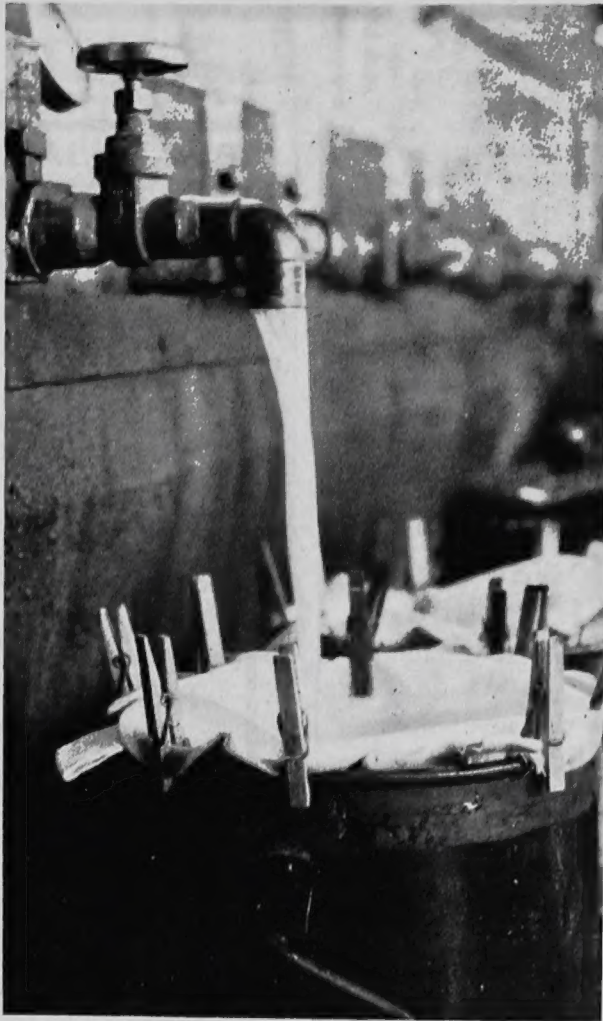

Louise Berry, owner of Iron Kettle Maple Products in Ingoldsby, is pessimistic. "We produce about 1000 gallons of syrup in a good year," she says. "So far this spring we've managed to get only about 350 gallons." Berry is afraid the season is about over for this year.

Berry is a big producer, the largest in the county with over 6000 taps. Her operation is highly automated. Instead of buckets, she uses plastic tubing and a vacuum pump to collect sap.

But the centrepiece of her operation is a $24,000 Memtek filter which separates the sugar from the sap by a process called reverse osmosis.

It reduces the water content of the sap by about 80%. The remainder is removed the old fashioned way, in a large oil-burning evaporator.

Though the high tech machinery cuts down on manpower, it can be expensive to fix when parts wear out. A case in point, says Berry, is the Memtek machine. When it was bought six years ago it did an excellent job. But now the filters are beginning to go. And new ones cost $18,000.

The real thing: hot maple syrup pours off from the evaporator. The felt cloth filters out the impurities before the finished product is bottled and distributed to retailers.

If Iron Kettle is to be profitable, Berry needs good sap runs.

Dwain Wruth, on the other hand, still uses traditional methods to produce his syrup. By modern standards, Wruth's sugar bush is modest; he taps about 1,650 trees and in a good year produces 215 gallons of syrup.

Wruth's taps only started running the day before he was interviewed (the average sugar season lasts as long as the trees produce sap - from about March 16 to April 16) "but since then it's been a reasonable run," he says.

It's hot inside Wruth's sugar shack, very hot. Beside the steaming evaporator, he and his mother stand watch, stoking the fire box with dry soft wood every few minutes and pouring off the syrup when the thermometer shows it ready.

"The season doesn't look good this year," he explains. "The taps have been dripping well since yesterday (April 5) at one o'clock, but this is the first run we've had."

"But if we get some frost soon we may have a good few days yet."

Wruth is hopeful. This year's run has given him 38 gallons of sap - about $1200 wholesale - but then he has no Memtek machine to pay off. Nor does he have a hefty fuel bill to cope with.

His evaporator is run entirely on wood, cut during the winter when his farm leaves him spare time. Even the sap collection process, a team of horses pulling a holding tank on runners, is powered by natural fuel.

Still, Wruth would like to be able to make a profit with his maple sugar operation and years like this don't help.

Lochlin farmer Dwain Wruth takes a break in his sugar shack while keeping a careful eye on the firebox of his evaporator.

Summer start predicted for new hotel

Plans for the construction of The Country House hotel in Minden are proceeding well, according to the owners Kathy and John Stainton. The operators of the Brown Owl Restaurant on Highway 35 are pleased with the progress of the 39 room facility and are looking forward to the beginning of construction in late summer.

The hotel will have an indoor pool, whirlpool and sauna, exercise room and weight room. There will be a 24 seat pub, 30 seat dining room and two 75 seat banquet/meeting rooms. The fitness centre will be open to the public.

Approximately 30-40 jobs will be created and inquiries and applications have already started to trickle in. The majority, if not all of these jobs, will be filled locally. One of the main requirements will be a desire to work for the general public and insure a pleasant stay.

Quite a lot of thought went into the site planning in order to minimize the impact of the development on neighbouring property owners, Stainton said. Planting trees and shrubs, in conjunction with carefully landscaped earth berms, will obscure the hotel from adjacent properties and envelope the building site in a country inn setting. Access to the hotel will be from South Water Street, behind the Brown Owl Restaurant. "We feel that this entrance will be the most suitable. Other entrances, such as from Teasdale Street or through the parking lot of the restaurant would cause problems for our neighbours and because of this, were quickly dismissed," Kathy Stainton said.

Feedback from the majority of residents and others in the community has been highly favourable. Many people in general and most business operators have a long realized that for the Minden area to grow and prosper, a destination point must be established. The County House at Minden will do just that. The spin-off to the local economy will be substantial, John Stainton added.

"All things going well, we should be able to begin construction in late summer/early fall of this year, with completion and opening in the spring of 1988," he said.

Books on tape

by Joel Levis

Heard a good book lately? That's not really as odd a statement as it may at first appear to be, especially if you have spent any of your valuable time in an airport somewhere wondering why you are here or your baggage isn't or worse, where your baggage is in truth, actually going.

You've seen those handsome displays of cassette tapes with your favourite book being read to you and wished there had been room for your walkman. Even long trips in the car might be made less tedious if there was a book that you could actually listen to as the miles rolled by.

There is no limit to the usefulness of these materials. All you need is a standard cassette tape records-walkman, stereo, car radio unit, whatever - and you are ready to go!

Now you can borrow these titles through your local branch of the Haliburton County Public Library. Popular fiction, old classics, favourite seal tales, self-improvement books are all to be had by asking local staff who have a list of the current holdings for you to choose from. And we can loan others from other libraries as well!

These are professional tapes read by experienced readers and actors; some are abridged but most are the complete work down to the last sentence.

Talking books, just one more example of how better library service begins in Haliburton County!

New building

of 1987.

The completed building would be approximately 10000 square feet in area.

Southern said the walls would be built of architectural block and the building would have a mansard roof.

Bylaw officer Peter Oomen explained that Mathwick and Southern were building on commercially zoned lots and would not have to apply for zoning amendments.

Businesses warned about fraud

Fraud, both with cheques and with credit cards, is a major problem in Haliburton County that is steadily getting worse.

At a seminar held at PineStone Inn last Wednesday, local businessmen learned how fraud is committed and what they can do to stop it.

Keith Motram, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, explained to the audience of about 60, that although crime committed with credit cards is less serious than cheque crime, credit card fraud is growing quickly.

It's getting worse, he said, because more people are using credit cards. "At present three out of every four adults in Canada use them," he explained.

He said the only way to curb credit card fraud is to educate the public and the police.

A film Motram then showed, outlined ways of guarding against credit card fraud.

The first step, according to the film, is to be vigilant. Anybody can be a fraud artist and you can't take people for granted.

When merchants take credit cards, they should always check to see that the card is valid and that the name on the back matches up with the person carrying the card. For instance, if the signature on the card is a woman's but it's being carried by a man, it shouldn't be accepted.

Merchants should keep warning bulletins distributed by credit card agencies and customers' cards should be checked against the numbers listed in the bulletins.

Merchants should be suspicious of customers who don't remove their credit cards from a wallet.

A number of audience members complained they haven't been receiving warning bulletins.

Jim Fletcher of the Toronto-Dominion Bank then spoke about cheque fraud.

More serious than credit card fraud in Haliburton, cheque fraud, Fletcher explained, is also difficult to guard against.

But, he said, it is easy to take precautions.

He said it is often obvious when a fraud artist picks a target. When someone asks to pay by cheque or to cash a cheque, merchants should ask themselves a list of simple questions.

- Do I know this person?
- Does he live in the area?
- What's in it for me if I take the cheque?

- Do I know where to recover the funds if something goes wrong with the cheque?

Fletcher said that if at all possible, merchants should

Jim Fletcher of the Toronto Dominion Bank addresses over 60 Highlands merchants at a fraud detection seminar April 8 at Pinestone Inn. The merchants were told that cheque and credit card fraud is on the increase and were given tips on how to avoid being stung by the con artists.

ask for personalized cheques and that they should make sure the customer fills out the cheques in front of him.

He said you have to know your customers and that you shouldn't be rushed by a customer to take a cheque. If merchants feel themselves being rushed they should refuse the cheque.

Merchants should also establish firm chequing policies.

Chris Meinhardt, the Crown Attorney for Victoria-Haliburton then explained the difficulties of prosecuting in cheque fraud cases.

"It's virtually impossible to prosecute in many cases," he said. "If you're dealing with a deadbeat, you'll never get a dime back."

Meinhardt explained that though people could sometimes be convicted of cheque fraud, if they had no money, the victims would not get restitution.

He went on to say that

North Americans live in a transient society where, "if things get hot at home, there are always nine other provinces to go to, plus the territories."

Meinhardt warned the audience to be careful about trying to get money back from customers who bounced cheques. If they threaten to call the police unless the money is handed over, they can be charged with extortion by the person who bounced the cheque.

NOTICE

Under The Forest Fires Prevention Act

The period from April 1 to October 31 of each year is a fire season.

- During the fire season, fire permits are required in a fire region
- for all outdoor fires except fires for cooking or obtaining warmth
- to ignite fireworks in or within 300 metres of a forest or woodland

A work permit is required to conduct any operation which is liable to cause an accumulation of slash and debris within 300 metres of a forest of woodland.

No person shall throw or drop live coals, smoking material or hot ashes in or within 300 metres of a forest of woodland.

No person shall smoke while walking or working in a forest or woodland during the fire season.

The regulations under the Act provide, in part, that every person who starts a fire out of doors shall,

- take all reasonable steps to keep the fire under control,
- ensure that all responsible persons tends the fire, and
- extinguish the fire before quitting the site.

Fire permits may be obtained from local Ministry offices or township fire wardens.

Seniors wrap up curling season

Members of the Minden Seniors Curling Club wrapped up the season Thursday with a banquet and dance at the club. The annual event drew over 100 participants, a good indication of the interest in the club by area seniors.

Following a meal catered by the women of Our Lady of Fatima Church in Minden, members of the club honoured the top curlers of the year and paid tribute to those who had made major contributions to the sport this year.

Vice president of the club, Stan Hill, told the members that this had been one of the busiest seasons in the history of the organization. He noted there were two double days of curling for men during the week and a ladies day. Along with tournaments, this made for a particularly busy year. He noted, however, that it wasn't all curling, and members enjoyed the social aspects of the sport as well.

He paid tribute to the club's president, Ed Pettinger for his skill in running the organization this past year. Stan Hill also noted the contribution of secretary Harold McCarthy and treasurer Sid Adamson.

The members were also informed that a special trophy will be available for curlers next year. Donated by Al Stott, Herb Gill, Pat Clarke and Jack Gregory, known affectionately as the over 80 curlers, the trophy will be awarded to the most improved senior men's curler in the club each season. The introduction of this newest award was greeted with a hearty round of applause by the membership.

Gravel pit opened

The Irwin gravel pit in Stanhope Township is about to be opened for use.

Gravel from the new pit, located close to Highway 35, just south of the Beech River bridge, will be used strictly for municipal purposes.

The 26 acre property was rezoned to permit a gravel pit in July 1986, when the Ontario Municipal Board passed Stanhope's comprehensive zoning bylaw 85-7.

The land was tested for the quality of its gravel by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications some years ago. At last Wednesday's Stanhope Council meeting, council looked over the results of those tests.

During a break in the meeting, council adjourned to investigate the gravel pit site for possible roadways into the property.

Although the MTC will not allow an entrance off Highway 35, there is a nearby township road from which council will consider building an entrance to the property.

Before gravel can be removed, any trees in the way will have to be cut and the topsoil removed.

Some gravel was removed from the site many years ago - possibly a few truck-loads - but for all intents and purposes the pit has yet to be opened up.

Study will examine resort

Plans for the proposed Rockface Inn luxury resort development in Stanhope Township are moving ahead.

At last Wednesday's Stanhope Council meeting, it was announced that Carlo Testa, the Toronto-based architect who is leading the project, has just received a grant of $10,625 from the provincial Ministry of Tourism to go toward a feasibility study of the plan.

According to the plan, the resort would provide luxury accommodation for 20 to 40 guests, fine cuisine and outdoor activities including cross-country skiing and hiking.

It is to be built on about 30 acres of property behind the township firehall on the North Shore Road.

Once the feasibility study is completed - it should take about a month - work on the design of the resort will begin.

In a Times interview last January, Testa said he hopes to persuade his investors to go ahead with construction this year.

The purpose of the feasibility study, he said, is to show that the resort will work. "I think it'll succeed, but some of the other investors are looking for reassurance," he commented.

Contrary to popular practice, the development will not be built on a lake. Instead it will be close to an escarpment. Testa said he believes the natural beauty of the region would make up for the lack of a lake.

Council has tentatively agreed to support the Rockface Inn proposal.

Testa began planning the resort in 1983 when he bought the land. "I realized it would be an ideal location for a luxury inn," he explained. "There are no others like it in the area, and it's close to Stanhope Airport."

The feasibility study will try to answer three questions: how attractive Haliburton County is as a tourist area; whether the resort might not succeed better on a lake than landlocked; and how big it should be.

Testa said that once the design work is complete - and providing the feasibility study is positive - his investors have the option of either commencing immediately with construction or applying for mortgage assistance from the Ontario Development Corporation.

If they apply for assistance, he said, building would not likely start until the fall of 1987.

His and Hers bowling results

The team of Gary Chapman and Leanne Schlosser from Carnarvon Lanes is this year's Zone Champs of the 'His and Hers' bowling tournament. This annual pins over average tournament is sponsored by the 1000 Lakes 5 Pin Bowlers' Association and had eighteen couples participating in Carnarvon from the three bowling centres of Carnarvon, Fenelon Falls and Lindsay.

Chapman and Schlosser are both first year bowlers and finished the tournament with an impressive 120 pins over average. Their nearest competitors were Barb and John Hayward, the father and daughter team from Lindsay, who completed the three game roll-off with 91 pins over average. A trophy was presented to the winners and cash prizes were awarded to the top six teams. The standings were as follows:

First: Gary Chapman and Leanne Schlosser Carnarvon; second Barb Hayward and John Hayward Lindsay; third Rick Jennings and Wendy Kearns Lindsay; fourth Laverne Howe and Marion White Lindsay; fifth Gord Darby and Joan Alger Carnarvon and sixth, Wally Everett and Kay Osler of Fenelon Falls.

The men's high single game for the day was bowled by Ed Geary Lindsay with a 238 and the ladies' high single game was bowled by Kay Osler, Fenelon Falls with a 246. High triple games were bowled by Wally Everett (683) and Kay Osler (626) both from Fenelon. Honourable mention goes to Gord Darby, Carnarvon who had a 264 single game and Ed Geary, Lindsay and John Pentney, Carnarvon who had triples of 664 and 642 respectively.

$9000 damages in two-car accident

A two car accident on Saturday April 4 at 12:45 p.m. resulted in four persons being injured.

The two vehicles, one operated by Joseph Bath, 18, of Minden and the other by Susanne Long, 17, of Haliburton, collided at the crest of a hill on Bethel Church Road.

Total damage to the vehicles is estimated at $9000. Both drivers were charged with failing to keep left of centre on a hill.

Constable Ron Derksen investigated the mishap.

Trapped man

Roger Leigh, age 26, of Renfrew was trapped in his 1986 GMC Jimmy for approximately one and a quarter hours after an accident on Highway 503 west of Tory Hill on April 6.

The accident occurred at 12:45 p.m. when Leith avoided a deer on the highway and crashed into a rock in the ditch.

Glamorgan Fire department and the ambulance service used block and tackle and jaws of life to extricate Leith who was taken to Haliburton Hospital and on to St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough.

Damage to the vehicle is estimated in excess of $15,000.

Investigating officer Constable Dave MacMartin credits the use of seat belts by Leith for saving his life.

Seat belts

April is Seat Belt Awareness Month - officers of this detachment charged 9 persons with seat belt violations during the past week.

Voices from HHSS

Greetings! The snow has finally melted and many activities are taking place.

Track and field practices are now being held after school. Many are taking advantage of this because the meet is only two weeks away.

Under the coaching of Mrs. Pizzezy, archery has begun. Practices are occurring after school on Tuesdays and Wednesdays but are subject to change. Listen for the announcements in the morning.

Badminton practices are still going on. Last week our senior team went to Crestwood in Peterborough and played in order to qualify for the COSSA tournament. COSSA will be held on April 15. The junior team travelled to I.E. Weldon in Lindsay last Thursday. At the time of writing, the results were not available. Their COSSA tournament will be held in Napanee on Thursday, April 16, which means that the players participating in COSSA will not be able to attend the Prom.

The Prom...a time when students dress up and become unrecognizable (ha ha!) Tickets are being sold now and until the 16th as they won't be available at the door. The price is $4 per person and $7 per couple. The band, "The Device" will be playing.

Just a reminder that SAC nominations are closing April 16. Nominate someone deserving today, and see Mr. Lerpiniere in Room 8 to make it official.

In closing, we would like to send our sympathy to the families and friends of the grumpy students who are in a state of depression because of an overload of homework from teachers.

Until next week, let the force be with you!

K. Beach, H. Donaldson, D. Garbutt, M. Campbell.

Pets and kids - a great combination

by Faith Aggett

Children are fascinated with animals. Throughout the ages - boys and girls all over the world have had pets for companions and playmates. Bonds of friendship are built through play, pride in tricks learned, quiet moments of consultation. The loyal and unconditional love of a pet for his master appeals to all ages.

The animal world offers a valuable opportunity for teaching children responsibility as well as many other facts of life - reproduction, nutrition, genetics and even death. But often the pet project which begins with enthusiastic promises is on a shaky foundation. With few exceptions, children tend to lose interest or at least to find "more important" things to do occasionally. Mom or Dad must be prepared to handle this situation.

In choosing a pet, it is wise for the entire family to get together and decide exactly what kind of pet to acquire. Animals confined by man depend on man to keep their surroundings pleasant. All animals need regular care and this is something that should be seriously considered before deciding to commit the family to them.

The person who simply shoves the food at his wards and thinks the chores are done, is merely a keeper. A bond of mutual respect, a sense of caring and concern must be built and maintained or the mundane routine may as well cease. Certainly no enjoyment is being gained.

Children must be taught to respect these other life forms and the extent to which animals rely on them. They should be taught the importance of good sanitation practices and how the unique characteristics of their individual pet ought to be catered to.

No pet of any kind should ever be teased, harshly punished or neglected. Children should have explained to them that many animals are easily frightened by sudden movements and loud noises. They should be shown how to hold their pet and that by snatching, squeezing or dropping their pet, they may injure them. Animals must be treated kindly and not overhandled or used as toys.

Yes, it takes work to care for a pet. It is consuming and binding. Yet the project if properly entered into also proves rewarding. The sheer joy and relaxation that comes from having animals to care for is extremely satisfying in our increasingly mechanized world.

After four years behind the counter at the Minden Arena Snack Bar, Garth and Peggy Gammon have called it quits. The well-liked proprietors made their final appearance as concessionaires April 5 at the annual Coboconk Hockey Tournament.

Staanworth Court news

Despite its beautiful weather, March left us a real April Fool's joke. What a storm!

Staanworth Court residents welcome our newcomer, Mrs. Pye, hope she enjoys being with us.

Val Rescola returned to her home in Bellingham, Wa., U.S.A. after spending time with her parents Henry and Vera Howe.

Joan and Art Marsh enjoyed a visit with her sister Fern Thibadeau from Halifax. She was accompanied by their mother.

Shirley Vank has returned from an extended visit with her family in Tillsonburg. During this time she attended the funeral of her brother in law. Please accept our belated condolences Shirley.

Birthday greetings go out to Corinne Arsenault and Edna Smith. May you both enjoy many more birthdays.

Eleanor and Frank Ferris have recently returned from a bus tour to Daytona Beach. Eleanor praised the cordiality of the driver and hostess of their bus. One feature that was pointed out was the unusual structure of the walls built along the highway, the entrance to one of the world's largest airports at Daytona. This wall is so constructed that it can be moved back as expansion demands without being demolished and rebuilt.

On March 25, a very tasty lasagna supper prepared by Janet, Florence and Corinne was enjoyed by our residents. Two lovely cakes were prepared by Mary and Jean for our birthday ladies Corinne and Edna. The remainder of the evening was spent playing euchre.

At this time I wish to thank all here for the sympathy shown my family and my husband's family on the death of my fine brother in law, Aubrey Horsley.

May the Peace of Easter And the Beauty of Spring And the blessings of this Season

Bring a world of Joy To you and those you love. Hope to see you at church this Easter.

Talking about feet

by Donna Bailey

Funk & Wagnall's dictionary describes the foot as "the terminal section of the limb of a vertebrate animal, upon which it rests, standing or moving."

On Friday April 24 at our "Welcome Home, Snowbirds" meeting our guest speaker Brian Cragg, chiropodist (a person in the branch of medicine that deals with ailments of the feet) will talk to us about foot care.

This dinner meeting will take place at the Royal Canadian Legion, Kinmount. Dinner will be at 12 noon at a cost of $6.40 per person. The meeting of Haliburton County Home Support Services will follow (including our guest speaker's presentation) at 1:15 p.m.

Dinner reservations are required. Please phone our office at 457-2941 by April 15 for reservations. If you are planning to attend the meeting only, no reservations are required.

Plan to attend and bring a friend. Everyone is welcome.

NOTICE TO AREA LANDLORDS

Those Haliburton area landlords wishing to advertise available accommodation for yearly and summer employees of PineStone Inn and Country Club are invited to send descriptions of accommodation and monthly rental costs to PineStone Inn and Country Club, P.O. Box 809, Haliburton, KOM 1S0. Attention: Michael Gilhooly, Assistant Innkeeper.

Hi kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Winners at St. Paul's Card Party Thursday were for lone hands, Charlotte O'Neill, ladies Verna McDonald and Emma Hewitt and men's Jeanne Sears and Shirley Elcome. There will be no card games at St. Paul's Anglican Church on April 16. Card party resumes April 23 for several more Thursdays.

Winners in last Monday evening's Club 35 card party were: most lone hands Bill Cowen, high lady Betty Campbell and high man Bob Lewis. The door prize went to Olive Daniels and other winners included Elmer Davis, Eleanor Bunker and Jack Gregory.

We welcome to our town the Dionne family, Nelson, Betty and Yvette. Since moving up from Kitchener last year the family lived at Tall Pines until recently moving into the house on Prince Street formerly owned by Betty's parents, Elmer and Ruth Sawyer. Betty was born and raised at Maple Lake and says it is great being back among her family and friends. She enjoyed the past summer working with John Mateer and Bob White owners of Hart Lodge and is hoping they will ask her back this year. Betty is an avid curler and swimmer. While Nelson is disabled, he loves to fish. Yvette enjoys the small country surroundings since she and Nelson originally come from South Porcupine just outside Timmins.

Dionnes have set a first since we find this name nowhere else in the area. Welcome and enjoy!

Good birthday wishes to these people, Cory Chiasson April 12, Clint Archer and Hazel Austen April 14, Jennifer Packard April 15 and Tessa Davis at Hyland Crest on April 21.

Some of the Juveniles team of 1986 were away at an invitational hockey tournament at Nachua, New Hampshire and had a great time in spite of the wet weather.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Archie Williamson (Kinmount), Margaret Sproats (Haliburton) and Robert Peacock, whose funerals were since last week.

Joan and Alec Beattie of Toronto visited with their mothers, Johann Beattie and Joyce Hewitt.

Winners at the Tuesday night euchre at Gelert Centre were lone hands Dorothy Milburn and Ruth Kellett, Isa Hilyer, Norm Harrison Sr., and Norm Taylor. Next games at Gelert will be April 21.

Last Saturday, April 4, there was the 10th annual Intermediate Mixed Volleyball Tournament at Peterborough. Seven players competed from Archie Stouffer School, Melanie Maxwell, Nancy Bird, Arlene Simmons, Teresa Short, Dustin Davis, Chris Allaire and Scott McKinlay. The team enjoyed the competition and demonstrated good skills as they played five teams from the Peterborough area.

Tuesday night at Recreation Centre was a full-house for Rotary Bingo and all enjoyed the games even if they didn't win, but good neighbours got hats.

Next bingo will be April 14 and Rotary are combining with the Cancer Society for lots of fun for everyone. Starts at 7:30 p.m.

Garnet Moore of Bramalea is visiting for several days with his parents Irene and Bill Moore.

All good wishes to Johann Beattie and Cliff Lacey who may be still in hospital.

In looking through the R.C. Legion magazine we saw several pictures of Haliburton members who had received awards.

A thought for the day - and every day. A smile is a curve that can set a lot of things straight!

We dropped in at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery and the art from our Archie Stouffer school filled the walls and showed just what talent is present here. Also the scholarship winners were set out separately, a great display.

The Horticultural Society bus trip was a great one with a visit to the Flower Show and for some the Home Show all the CNE last Wednesday. Then on to Cullen Barns for a delicious meal. Come out and join the Horticultural Society and help make our village more beautiful.

Several coming events this week. Women's Institute meeting at the Library Centre on Wednesday April 15 at 2 p.m. The Thrift Shop will re-open April 24 and 25 from 1:30 to 4 beside The Times. There will be a fund raising dance at West Guilford Centre at 8:30 on April 18 with 'Clover' proceeds to Hospital Expansion Fund.

Hello readers! What's so nice as a big fall of snow in April? Oh well, the sun is warm and will soon take it all away.

Our church service Sunday evening was conducted by the ever-faithful Rev. J. Burgess and Mrs. Burgess and on Tuesday morning, in spite of the storm, Rev. Thoms from Kinmount Anglican came.

On Tuesday afternoon we had a nice movie "Murphy's Romance" with James Garner and Sally Fields. In the evening we were entertained by the Fearrey's and Mr. Stevenson from Haliburton. It was very enjoyable.

Guests for Charlie Brohm on Wednesday afternoon were his sister Laura Archer and her husband Atkin. Their chauffeur was Art Bartlett of Cobocok.

Mabel Deacon and her daughter Pat Lancaster (who lives in Calgary) had lunch with Alice Todd recently.

The Carnarvon ladies and minister of Zion Church brought our tea party in on Thursday. It was lovely, as was the singing of "It's in my heart" and "Amazing Grace".

fall and break her wrist. Dora is staying for a while longer to help her until it is healed.

Winnie Barnum has been away a few days visiting her mother in Kingston hospital.

Doris and Fred Greer of Peterborough are the very proud grandparents of Melissa, daughter of Joe and Linda. Melissa would be the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Della Curry who was with us in Hyland Crest for several years.

Stretching the truth won't make it last any longer.

Branch 129 news

by Gerald Irish

Terry Johnson, a grade eleven student at the Haliburton High School, attended the general meeting last Thursday. You remember Terry, the young lady your Legion assisted financially on her trip to Ottawa to participate in the program, Encounters with Canada. Terry's brief, but enthusiastic report, outlined her activities and learnings while there. She saw Brian Mulroney, visited with M.P. Bill Scott, attended sessions of parliament and drama classes and learned much about people from all across this great country. It was interesting to hear her state, "I know what it is to be a Canadian. I am not just a young person from Haliburton County. I am also a Canadian."

Terry also thanked the members of Branch 129 very much for their financial assistance in making this dream become a reality.

D.V.A. representative, Gary Barker was unable to visit Haliburton last month because of the heavy storm and poor road conditions. Gary's next visit is scheduled for the last Tuesday in April, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. If you have any problems or questions before that, contact Branch 129 Service Officer, Comrade Lloyd Whittaker at 457-1093.

Congratulations to Judy Thibadeau on winning the jackpot bingo last Wednesday night. Although the jackpot has gone, neither one of the two snowballs has. These are both ready to go and would be worth winning. Come out and try your luck.

Your Ways and Means chairman, Comrade Ed Pickard, has planned a ham and beef roll, in the club room on Easter Saturday afternoon. I hope to see you there.

On Saturday, April 4, 16 teams from Kinmount, Bancroft, Coe Hill, Cannington, Cobocok, Haliburton and elsewhere, competed in the Johnny Maughan Open Dart Tournament at Branch 129. The team from Coe Hill made a clean sweep of all awards. They were team doubles and singles champions. During the course of play three perfect scores of 180 were recorded. Chris Briggs and Barry Robertson of Haliburton and Mike Grogan of Bancroft pulled off this amazing feat. Congratulations to Branch 129 sports officer Comrade Reg Crockett, on organizing and running such a successful tournament. Thanks also to Jack Morrison for helping Reg throughout the day.

This Saturday's 50-50 draw was won by Betty Billingham and was worth over $50. Congratulations Betty, when is it my turn to win?

The general meeting in April was also nomination night for the officers of Branch 129. All but two offices could be contested. Nominated as Branch 129 is Comrade Jack Bassett and Comrade Wally Chambers as Branch Treasurer. All nominees have a month to decide whether to stand or decline. Here is the list of nominees for the various offices recorded as they were nominated.

President: Joan Irish, Doug Pritchard, Mabel Brannigan, Fred Knight.

First Vice President: Gerry Irish, Allin Cooper, Mabel Brannigan, Doug Pritchard, Fred Knight.

Second Vice President: Gerry Irish, Wayne Wood, Sylvia Sisson, Earl Shipley.

Third Vice President: Steve Giles, Reg Crockett, Irv Chambers, Lloyd Whittaker.

Sergeant-at-Arms: Irv

Chambers, Jim Hobson.

Executive - (6 to be elected): Steve Giles, Irene Higgins, Wally Chambers, Reg Crockett, Bruce McKay, Ed Pickard, Ken Fieldhouse, Earl Shipley, Lloyd Whittaker, Grenville Draper, Allin Cooper, Sylvia Sisson, Irv Chambers, Gerry Irish, Wayne Wood, Fred Knight.

Auditors: Dawson, Gray, Dart; Mike Jones; Barry Robertson.

Nominations were conducted smoothly by Zone Commander Comrade Mel Robertson. Comrade Mel also informed the members that such a large number of nominees is indicative of a healthy branch.

Life, ordinary and associate members, please exercise your right to vote on election night May 7. At that general meeting there will be the election of officers and the joint installation of officers for Branch 129 and the Ladies Auxiliary, followed by a pot luck meal. Don't forget your membership card must be shown in order to be eligible to vote. So bring along your card and something for the pot luck. May 7, 8 p.m.

Haliburton's Midget hockey team is playing for the All-Ontario championship against a team from Wheatley. To hire a comfortable bus, pay for motel rooms and meals for an entire team is a large expenditure. To assist the young men representing Haliburton, your Legion donated five hundred dollar to the Midget team. We wish the team every success. The team is wearing Haliburton Legion sweat-shirts.

On Friday evening, April 3, 23 Legionnaires gathered at the funeral home in Minden to pay their last respects and say goodbye to Comrade Bert Howe. Our thoughts and prayers are with his wife Eva and with Bert's family.

We were all shocked and saddened by the sudden passing of Marg Sproats.

Marg and Rod have been dear friends of many in Legion and supporters of Branch 129. Our deepest sympathies go to Rod and his son. Marg will be greatly missed.

Seventy years ago on Thursday April 9, the Canadian Corps stormed a long hill known as Vimy Ridge. This vital assault was one of the turning points in W.W.I. Many, many Canadian lives were lost at Vimy. We will remember them.

Seatbelts: buckle up properly

This is the third in a series of five special articles prepared by the Ontario Provincial Police to increase public awareness on the use of seat belts in reducing the severity of injuries in motor vehicle accidents.

Today's article focuses on increased risks of death and injury by drivers and passengers who secure the seat belt assembly improperly. The article will focus on three common errors in fastening seat belts.

Seat belts were designed so that the lap belt would be pulled snugly over the pelvic bones and the chest belt crossing the upper torso from the shoulder to the pelvic area. The shoulder and pelvic bones are strong body parts that can themselves take significant impact prior to fracture or dislocation.

Ontario Provincial Police Officers observe many drivers who wear the chest belt under their arm rather than over the shoulder. This improper use of seat belts increases significantly risk of death and injury. In this position the seat belt on impact would be pulled upward into the rib cage causing rib fracturing that may pierce several vital organs including the heart and lungs. The ribs are a very fragile bone structure and easily broken. This use of the seat belts is as dangerous as not using seat belts.

The second death and injury risk seen by OPP officers are parents who fasten their seat belt around young children held on their lap. In this position, the difference in body weights during the force of impact will crush the child between the parent and the belt. Parents are incapable of holding the child or themselves away from the child on impact. The only safe position for a child is when they are properly placed in a child restraint device.

The third death and injury risk occurs when only the lap belt is put over a child restraint device or children are allowed to kneel on the seat with a seat belt over their waist. In both of these situations, the accident's forward thrust causes the child to be plummeted forward, popping out from under the belt in a head first position. Their rotation will be at the same speed as the impact and may lead to fatal head and neck injuries as they strike other passengers or parts of the car.

The Ontario Provincial Police throughout the month of April are encouraging the public to make use of seat belts. The public must be reminded that it is equally important they are properly worn. Not only is proper use the safe use - it is against the law to wear them any other way.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Verna Priest would like to thank friends and relatives during our time of sorrow. Special thanks for the cards, flowers, memorial donations, lunches and to the Minden United Church Women for their nice lunch. Also thanks to the many medical teams for their caring attention, to Campbell's Garden Centre for flowers, to Harold Wessell for the ride to Toronto and to Neil for the use of his car. Thanks also to Monk's Funeral Home and Rev. Ed. Moll for their comforting words.

Gordon, Elaine, Rendal, Sylvia, Ray and grandchildren.

I wish to thank the following people who assisted with the Straw & Stone held at the Curling Club on March 27 and 28, Dave Camelon, Stan Hill, Dwight Thomas, Peter Franzen, Karen Colliss, Sue Vasey, Patti Prentice, Linda Blakey, Jean Scott, Howard Scott, Jim Crawford (Chef), Janice Hughes, Mrs. MacAdam, Kathy Franzen, Maggie Harrison and Bill Harrison.

Carl Northey, Chairman.

WITH THANKS

Another year of minor hockey and figure skating has come to an end in Minden. With a son in the Tykes division and a daughter in the Can-Skate program, we would like to extend a sincere thank you to the Executive members of both organizations as well as the instructors and coaches and all the volunteer parents who helped to make this year a success. Please know that all of your time and effort has not gone unnoticed or unappreciated.

Wayne & Judy Johnson.

I would like to thank all the kind people for their cards and phone calls and concern during Bob's recent surgery. My sister and I would also like to thank all those wonderful girls at Hyland Crest who are currently nursing our mother their kindness and efficient devotion is just "something else" and has been a great comfort to us.

Nancy Cook.
